CALLED BY DEATH

MARSHAL JOSEPH PILSUDSKI

PILSUDSKI DIES, PEACE PLAN HIT

Europe Watches To See Whether Poland Will Continue Siding With Germany

AWAITS HIS SUCESSOR

Marshal's Body To Be Buried at Krakow But Heart Will Rest at Wilno

By The Associated Press

WARSAW May 13—The death of Marshal Joseph Pilsudski Poland's dictator gave diplomats fresh cause for concern today over the outlook for peace in eastern Europe

Much may depend on who succeeds the iron willed marshal It may determine the future of the peace pact system which France is attempting to promote as well as Germany's future attitude toward France's program

It may also decide whether Poland henceforth will cast her lot with France and Russia which have just concluded a mutual assistance agreement or whether she will continue along the lines of German rapprochement which Pilsudski himself marked out

Was Ill Three Days

Death came to the 67 year old ruler of Poland's destinies last night after a three days illness His body will be buried among Poland's great in the cathedral of Wawel castle at Krakow but his heart will rest in Wilno and his brain will be given to science

These requests Pilsudski himself made of his friends after they prevailed on him to consent to burial at Krakow There his body will lie beside those of King Joseph Sobieski and three other Polish heroes Thaddeus Kosciuszko who fought in the American revolution and the poets Adam Mickiewicz and Julius Slowacki

Wilno where the dictator's heart will be interred is the city where Pilsudski was raised and where most of his relatives reside Wilno learned of the aged marshal's death before the Polish capital for word was first flashed there to his family

Crowds Assemble at Home

After the news was made public in Warsaw that the old soldier and statesman had succumbed to internal hemorrhage caused by cancer of the stomach and liver crowds of bareheaded and weeping mourners gathered outside his home Belvedere palace

The only official position Pilsudski held was that of minister of war Yet his power over Polish governmental affairs was virtually absolute Recent constitutional reforms had concentrated large pow

Whether Toledo Workers Will Follow Union Leadership Main Question

By The Associated Press

The union asked wage increases of five cents an hour a minimum wage of [illegible]0 cents an hour and changes in working conditions The company's counter proposals including a blanket 5 per cent wage increase were rejected by the workers last Wednesday

While the latest peace proposals were perfected here Donald Richberg NRA committee head and officials of General Motors conferred in New York on the automobile strike situation Neither he nor Alfred P Sloan president of General Motors was available for a statement when the secret meeting ended.

BONUS VETO TO RAP INFLATION

President Expected To Get Patman Measure from Senate Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 13.—[illegible] President [illegible] Patman [illegible]

Back from a week-end [illegible] the President [illegible] leaders were [illegible] expected to go to [illegible] from the senate [illegible]

Some of the conferees [illegible] the President [illegible] would go to those who [illegible] program was designed to take care of the needy [illegible]

Await Action in Congress

While talk of possible compromises or substitutes for the Patman [illegible] would not down in some [illegible] a conferee in the presidential party said that any discussion of compromises must wait until after congress had acted on the President's veto.

Post-veto interest would center in the senate. Roosevelt leaders there are saying that they can count on 35 votes—three more than they require to stop a move to upset a veto. As for the house, leaders conceded that more than the necessary two-thirds of legislators there would vote to override the veto.

Backers of the bonus drive continued their efforts to put the Patman bill across. Father Charles E. Coughlin in his radio address last night appealed to the President to sign the bill. Attacking the bond issue method of financing as against the Patman new currency method, he said:

Wouldn't Pay Bankers

"I can not believe that you would demand that the taxpayers pay $1,900,000,000 bonus to the bankers simply because the soldiers are entitled to be paid $2,400,000,000. I can not believe that you will prevent the soldier from receiving his just dollar of dues simply because the banker is not to receive his unjust 81 cents of the bonus."

Before the President and the congressional leaders returned from their week-end trip, Rep. Patman, Democrat of Texas, author of the bill, had said some legislators felt certain leaders had urged the President to suggest a new compromise.

DISORDERS MARK EVE OF PHILIPPINE VOTE

at Malacanan palace, banks and government offices indicating authorities were taking no chances of an outbreak such as that of May 2, in which three score persons were killed.

Teofilo Sison, secretary of the interior, rallied voters, including possibly 250,000 women going to the polls for the first time, issuing a statement calling for a favorable vote as "a sacred duty."

Favorable Vote Foreseen

An overwhelmingly favorable vote seemed assured, some predictions being as high as 92 per cent, but the vote will not represent the opposition of the Sakdalistas. A large percentage of these extremists are not registered voters, and some of their leaders have preached a ballot boycott. More than 500 of them, including many leaders, have been arrested since the recent uprising.

"The plebiscite is a legal comedy and will not express the true will of the Filipino people," declared Josef Timog, titular head of the Sakdalistas in Tayabas province. He said he had urged Sakdalistas to stay away from the polls.

Tiongco, after his arrest, accused Benigno Ramos, Sakdalistas chief now in Tokyo, of ordering the May 2 uprising. He revealed that Ramos and their Sakdal leaders conferred in Tokyo in February. He asserted Ramos counseled violence in connection with the election but other leaders objected.

Ramos Resigns

As a result Ramos resigned by mail May 1, and Tiongco since has been de facto head of the party as well as editor of the party newspaper. Tiongco said he planned a mass demonstration on the eve of the plebiscite, but did not advocate violence and fled when the revolt occurred. He said 400 Sakdalistas now are "starving" in the hills 20 miles from Manila, afraid to emerge knowing they would be arrested.

Tomorrow's vote, which begins at 7 a. m. (6 p. m., Monday, Eastern Standard time), is on ratification of the constitution of the prospective 10-year commonwealth government to operate until final independence.

The Tydings-McDuffie act, providing eventual freedom for the islands, also provided that "if a majority of the votes cast shall be for the constitution such vote shall be deemed an expression of the will of the people of the Philippine Islands in favor of Philippine independence."

GARBAGE SERVICE BID IS REJECTED

ice to a private company was defeated by councilmen and private citizens at a public meeting March 25. Councilman W. M. Fabian, chairman of the finance committee, defended the proposal at that meeting after J. W. Jacoby, Fred W. Warner and other interested persons criticized the proposal to let a private company operate the service.

Point To Profit

Mr. Jacoby and Mr. Warner argued the garbage department had made a profit of $2,500 in 1934, $2,500 in 1933 and a total profit of $1,000 in its nine years of operation by the city. Mr. Fabian asserted the department actually had lost money, pointing out that a $3,672 bond issue for equipment and damage claims the city was obliged to pay because of garbage equipment colliding with automobiles actually resulted in a deficit. He argued the proposal to lease the service to a private company would bring a profit of $7,500 to $10,000 in a five-year period and save the city the cost of issuing bonds for new equipment now needed by the department.

OFFICERS ACT TO SOLVE MYSTERY

Car Used in Theft Reported Stolen; Two Arrested.

Just how the automobile of a Marion man, Cecil Russel, 24, came to be involved in an attempted theft of gasoline from the barnyard of the Shady Nook farm, two miles north of Brush Ridge, is a question Wyandot and Marion county authorities will attempt to solve.

The first step in clearing up the mystery was taken yesterday with the arrest of Russel and Francis W. Hopkins, 21, also of Marion, for questioning in connection with the attempted theft which occurred Saturday night. The men were taken into custody here by Police Captain Norton and Sheriff Fred F. Miller, and turned over to Sheriff Weatherholtz of Wyandot county.

Russel yesterday morning reported his automobile stolen from his garage Saturday night.

R. A. Stief, tenant of the Shady Nook farm, said he drove in the drive at the farmhouse and surprised two men who drove away when he approached. He gave chase and overtook the car near the cemetery at Brush Ridge. Something evidently had gone wrong with it and the men abandoned it and ran. A drum of gasoline was found in the rear of the machine.

ready for another sea dash on a moment's notice.

The world's most powerful undersea force, submarine division 12, which trailed the fleet across the Pacific but could not deliver an "attack," came in hours after the other warships yesterday.

Another powerful unit of the 153 maneuvering war vessels is assembled in the vicinity of the Aleutian islands, northern extremity of area in which the war game is being plotted.

The main fighting elements of the fleet anchored shortly after dawn yesterday in Pearl harbor, one of the world's most strongly fortified naval bases.

Admiral Reeves, who also is chief "umpire" of the maneuvers, had led the battleships, cruisers and destroyers on a nine-day fighting cruise over a circuitous course from San Francisco.

Shortly after his arrival, Admiral Reeves disclosed a few details in the mass flight of 43 naval seaplanes which took off from here last Thursday, supposedly for Midway island, 1,323 miles northwestward.

While not disclosing the whereabouts or destination of the planes, the commander-in-chief said the flight involved one landing enroute.

Admiral Reeves emphasized secrecy was vital in this great over water mass flight because it was such an important phase of the maneuvers.

Right Arm Was Useless and Pains Almost Unbearable

Well known man tells how Vendol gave relief after everything he tried had failed.

"I often meet with people who have received really astonishing relief by taking Vendol but I believe the experience of Mr. Peter Morehouse matches most any I can recall," said the Vendol Man in Sams Pharmacy.

Mr. Morehouse is Head Gardener for Mr. H. B. Fravell and resides on Route 3, Massillon, Ohio. He recently gave the following signed statement with permission to publish it to help others. He says:

"Before I started on the Vendol medicine my right arm was completely dead. I had no use of it at all and the pain in it was almost unbearable. I think every joint in my body was full of pain because I couldn't make a move without feeling pains all over.

"My blood pressure was high and I often felt dizzy with singing noises in my ears. My bowels were constipated and I seldom got a good night's sleep.

"Reading in the papers about Vendol I got some, and I've never taken anything that did so much good. In fact I've taken many different treatments but Vendol is the best of all.

"Vendol soon had my bowels acting regularly every day, the dizziness passed off and I began sleeping well. I've taken five bottles of

Blood pressure back to normal

Vendol and it has thoroughly cleansed my system. My joints are free of pain for the first time in months and my right arm is as good as ever. I find that my blood pressure is back to normal and that has made me feel better all over.

"I never miss a chance to speak a good word for Vendol."

Vendol is the new medicine that has already done a lot of good in Marion and vicinity. Come to W. N. Sams Pharmacy, 121 S. Main St., and let the Vendol Man tell you more about this excellent treatment and how it can also help you. There is no charge, so come today if possible.—Adv.

IN AND AROUND MARION

Handicap

Patients of one of Marion's dentists needn't be alarmed if they hear a grunt or two while he's at work. We promised not to write anything about it, but we won't use his name.

Sunday night he took a bath and used lots of soap. When he started to get out of the tub his foot slipped on the soapy bottom and down he went.

One broken rib is the toll. Says he's heard of similar accidents but had no idea they happened with such speed.

Likeness?

Police Chief Mackan should follow the Barrymore rule and always be seen with his face in profile. A 14-year-old who saw him in a theater the other night and didn't know him, nudged her neighbor and remarked that man two rows down looked like President Roosevelt.

The nudgee nearly fell out of the seat trying to keep down a howl, but lo, when the story was told at home the nudger had plenty of support.

HAROLD ("DUTCH") SMITH, Olympic Diving Champion, who has smoked Camels for nine years—even before he took up diving. He says: "I'd walk a mile for a Camel." Among his team mates on the Olympic squad who are also Camel fans: Leo Sexton, Helene Madison, Jim Bausch, Josephine McKim, Bill Miller, and Georgia Coleman.

Read below what leading sports champions say about Camels

With the preference of star athletes overwhelmingly for one cigarette, that cigarette has to be exceptionally mild! Its name is—Camel. Here's what an Olympic champion diver, Harold ("Dutch") Smith, says about Camels: "I've found a great deal of pleasure in Camels. They never interfere with my wind." Rip Collins, of the St. Louis Cardinals, says: "Here's the best proof I know that Camels are mild. I can smoke them steadily, and they never get my wind."

Rowland Dufton, of the New York A. C., says: "Camels never upset my nerves or get my wind. That's what I call real mildness!"

Dick Shelton, world-champion steer dogger, and these two brilliant campaigners in the golfing wars, Denny Shute and Helen Hicks, have come to the same conclusion—"Camels do not get my wind."

How this mildness is important to you too!

Camel smokers can smoke more—and enjoy smoking more. You get more satisfaction, knowing that sports champions have found Camels so mild that they never jangle their nerves or get their wind.

YOU'LL LIKE THEIR MILDNESS TOO!

YOUR OWN PHYSICAL CONDITION—your wind . . . your energy . . . the good health of your nerves—is important to you too. So remember this: Camels are so mild you can smoke all you want. Athletes say Camels never get their wind or nerves.

SO MILD! YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT!

CARDINALS, BROWNS CLASH WITH UNION

'Unfair List' Because of Refusal To Unionize Ushers Bartenders

By The Associated Press

ST LOUIS May 13—Both St Louis Cardinals and the Browns today were on the unfair list because of refusal to unionize ushers and bartenders at Sportsmans park.

Action was voted last night by the Central Trades and Labor union at a meeting at which its president William M Brandt reported owners of the two baseball clubs had refused to consider unionization of the employes.

Brandt reported he had been unable to negotiate with President Sam Breadon of the Cardinals on a previously voted boycott of the team because of Shortstop Leo Durocher's alleged anti union attitude.

Durocher whose wife Mrs Grace Durocher is a dress designer was affected by a strike was charged by the union with having caused the arrest of a picket for disturbance of the peace.

Brandt said he had been advised unions in New York and other cities in the National league have boycotted and picketed the Cardinals games. The team has not played a home game since the boycott was voted several weeks ago.

PILSUDSKI'S DEATH JOLTS PEACE PLANS

[illegible] in the hands of the presidency to which Pilsudski was expected soon to have succeeded after the resignation of President Ignace Moscicki.

Speculators over who may be his political heir named Gen Edward Rydz Smigly his close friend and popular army leader Dr Joseph Beck his foreign minister and Gen Kazimierz Sosnkowski. It was generally believed the dictator left a political testament designating his choice.

Plan National Funeral

Plans for a national funeral were being shaped by government leaders today. The dictator's body was placed upon a catafalque in Belvedere castle and the nation entered a period of solemn mourning.

Pilsudski's death occurred on the ninth anniversary of the 1926 coup which brought him the powers of a dictator. He had been unconscious for the last three days but the true gravity of his condition had been withheld.

The marshal's death had been precarious for 10 years. Ever since his return in 1892 from the Siberian exile into which he was sent under the Czarist regime he had been compelled to take unusual precautions to preserve his strength and submit to frequent rest cures.

While Pilsudski lay unconscious in his palace Pierre Laval French foreign minister who came here to renew France's assurances of friendship for Poland conducted his conversations with other members of the government. Laval departed from Moscow a few hours before the dictator's death.

Was Real Power

Joseph Pilsudski the real power in that struggling republic through the years of its birth pangs was generally recognized as father of his country. Yet he was a hot tempered if fond parent.

Scornful especially of political maneuverings and bickerings in the Polish diet he took matters into his own hands in 1929 forced dissolution of the national legislature and by means of a general election obtained a working majority in the sejm or lower house. He failed however to obtain the two-thirds vote that would have enabled him to amend the constitution so as to give the president a man of his own choice greater executive power.

Virtually from boyhood Pilsudski was a revolutionist. He was trained first to struggle against Russia. The World war gave him opportunity to exercise his leadership in opposition to Austro-Hungarian and German plans and eight years after the armistice he headed an uprising that seized the reins in his Poland redeemed.

Declined Offices

Through it all he declined to hold office except when personal control of some department was needed to put his projects into effect. After the coup d'etat of 1926 he was offered the presidency of the country but declined the post and turned it over to Ignace Moscicki. From November 1918 to November 1922 he was provincial head of the new republic. For brief periods thereafter he was premier or minister of war.

Always he was the real head of the army and backed by its unswerving loyalty to his personal standard he kept his country on a rigid course and was in fact if not in name a dictator of its politics.

Pilsudski was born in the manor of Zulow province of Vilna on Dec 5 1867. His parents were of aristocratic Lithuanian lineage but the family had taken part in an uprising against Russia in 1863 and most of its estates had been confiscated. In 1874 a destructive fire wiped out the Pilsudski farm buildings and the family moved to Vilna where it lived very simply on what was left of its fortune.

In Trouble at School

Young Pilsudski attended a high school in Vilna but was constantly in trouble with his Russian teachers because he insisted on talking in Polish on the school grounds. *Finally in 1885 he finished his pre*paratory work and went to the University of Kharkov to study medicine.

But in his first year there he organized a socialist group and was expelled. He went back to his home city continued his political agita*tion and in 1887 was arrested on* charges of being involved in a plot against the life of Czar Alexander III. He was exiled to eastern Siberia for five years.

That experience failed to cure him but it made him more cautious and he was not arrested again until 1900. He was sentenced to prison but managed to escape and set off for Cracow then an Austrian possession. He started at once to organize secret Polish fighting squads in anticipation of an eventual war between Austria and Russia.

In 1905 when Japan was fighting Russia in Manchuria he went to Tokyo and tried to get backing for an uprising in the Russian rear but failed to convince the Japanese that his plan was feasible.

His chance came when the World war started in 1914. He entered the Austrian army as commander of a Polish legion and took part in the fighting against Russia in south Poland. From this he progressed to a scheme for an independent Polish army as a nucleus of a rebirth of the nation but Austria refused to sanction the plan and Pilsudski quit active service.

Called To New Post

He was summoned from this retirement in 1916 when the central powers at the behest of the German high command proclaimed an intention to free Poland. Pilsudski was made a member of the provisional government in Warsaw but soon quarreled with the German organizers of the council. When the Polish legionnaires refused to take an oath of fraternity with the German army Pilsudski was arrested and imprisoned at Magdeburg. He stayed there until the collapse of the central powers in November 1918.

He entered Warsaw on Nov 10 a national hero and two days later was proclaimed head of the state. In February 1919 the diet of the new republic made him provisional president pending a constitutional election. The constitution was not adopted until 1921 and it was 1922 before a regular election was held.

In 1923 he retired also as chief of the general staff remaining at a country home at Sulejowek near Warsaw until his coup d'etat of 1926.

M Pilsudski was married in 1894 while he was engaged in his socialist agitation against the czars to Marie Tuszkiewicz. She shared many of his early trials and was arrested with him in 1900 but was soon released. Two daughters were born to them.

SENATOR SAYS SCHOOLS COULD SAVE $3,100,000

Cites Numerous Places Where Reforms Would Reduce Expenditures Necessary for Proper Education.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O May 13 Despite objections of school officials to the contrary Sen James Metzenbaum Democrat of Cuyahoga insisted today that Ohio's public school costs can be reduced $3,100,000 a year.

It may take three years to do it he said but he presented a carefully prepared and elaborate brief to his colleagues pointing out where he believes the savings can be made. His program the senator asserted would give children better education and teachers better salaries.

Outlines Proposed Savings

Here are the savings Metzenbaum insists can be made:

Revision of the method of school insurance with a resultant savings of $250,000 a year.

Change in the method of taking the school census with a saving of $250,000.

Short term financing with a saving of $250,000.

Revision of school transportation routes with a saving of [illegible].

Reduction in the general cost of education with a saving of more than $1,750,000.

Elimination of the salaries of clerks of board of education with a saving of $250,000.

Elimination of salaries of local boards of education with a saving of $100,000.

Admits Some Errors

Metzenbaum admits his plan is not infallible but asserts it would result in a large saving in more than $54,000,000 that is spent annually for education in Ohio.

Since the founding of this state in 1803 Metzenbaum said each school has been expected to raise and to supply its own funds.

But as more recent years have come on it has been necessary for the state itself to step in and to furnish more and more money with which to aid those districts that have been unable to supply enough to maintain their own schools.

Metzenbaum asserted there are at present more than 2,000 school districts in Ohio some of which have as few as 10 students in the whole district. In each of these districts there are seven officials—the board members each of whom receives compensation a clerk of the board and a caretaker.

Cites Poor Heating

In some of the 3,000 remaining one room schools he stated the snow and wind blows under the floor and the stoves bake the child on one side while the other side is chilled.

Some of these schools and districts could be consolidated into present existing much better buildings giving improved education and beyond all this a savings of several millions of dollars a year.

Metzenbaum said that his proposed savings could be accomplished through a gradual process of reduced expenditures over a three year period despite a statement by Rep R J Kiefer Republican of Logan co-author of the proposed Traxler-Kiefer minimum school foundation program.

Kiefer asserted that newspaper stories and statements of other than school people that vast savings were possible were erroneous. He insisted that school expenditures had already been reduced to rock bottom.

The Stars Say-

For Tuesday, May 14

A VERY LIVELY day is presaged from the predominant lunar and mutual aspects. But this liveliness is likely to be characterized by excitement, commotion, upheaval and possible indiscretions through impetuous acts. The mind and energies will be found to be under high stimuli. With firm control and discretion many benefits are seen.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of much activity, commotion, excitement and possibly turbulence, with many opportunities for constructive work and solid benefits. But there are strong tendencies to rash, impetuous and wayward indulgences of a nullifying nature.

A child born on this day will be lively, active, energetic, but impulsive, reckless and self-indulgent. With proper personal discipline in both business and private affairs it should flourish.

Notable nativity: Alan Dale, critic.

RADIO STATION WLW AGAIN HIKES POWER

Radio station WLW, Cincinnati, is again operating at its full power of 500,000 watts. The federal communications commission Thursday granted the owners authority to resume full time operation as the strongest station in the world.

For the past three months WLW has been operating, after sundown, with a power reduced to 50,000 watts, pending completion of new antenna equipment designed to reduce the station's signal in the Toronto, Canada area. Steps to reduce the signal were taken following the Canadian government's complaint that the Cincinnati outlet interfered with night-time reception of CFRB, Toronto.

Danner Buick Co. Equipped for Complete Auto Service

Garage Provided With Best Modern Equipment

Testing Devices Give Accurate Account of Car's Condition; Expert Workmen in Charge.

More satisfied customers each year since its organization in July 1930, proves that the Danner Buick company, located at 245 North Main street, is a "square dealing" organization. They have gained these satisfied customers not only from cars purchased from them but for the excellent repair work turned out by their repair department.

Associated with Carl Danner in the retail sales are Charles Baldwin, Bob McMahon and William Mitchell. Prospective buyers of new or used cars will find them a pleasant group to deal with, and you can depend on them when they tell you about the condition and quality of the car you may wish to buy.

The repair department is under the able supervision of O. B. Manbeck, service manager. Men associated with Mr. Manbeck in that department, and known for their fine quality work, are Iri Reasoner who has serviced Buicks and other make cars for 15 years, William Ressler, 10 years, Ike Osborn, seven years, and Pete January, five years.

Modern Equipment

Five thousand dollars worth of equipment, which includes a Weidenhoff Motor Analyzer, an Engleihard Gas Analyzer and a complete lubrication system assures you that work done on your car here will be scientifically correct and not guesswork.

The engines of today require trained experts and precision tune-up equipment to keep them at their best or to restore lost power, speed and getaway. Knowing this and always trying to keep their repair equipment up to date the Danner Buick company installed a Weidenhoff Motor Analyzer. The motor analyzer is operated by Ike Osborn, who has been trained in its use. It is a revelation to watch the operations performed by this analyzer in detecting motor ills. You can watch the tests made on your motor under actual operating conditions—compression, vacuum, ignition, spark plugs coils and other vital units that so greatly affect performance of your motor.

Aid to Economy

"Results of investigations show a range of fuel consumption from 20 to 30 per cent in excess of that necessary for good operation," says a director of Engineering Research. The Engelhard Exhaust Gas Analyzer installed by the Danner Buick company, attached to the exhaust pipe of your car will show with unerring accuracy just how much gasoline you are wasting by driving or idling with too rich a mixture. In just a few minutes you can know just what your carburetor is doing, while you help the mechanic watch the scale and see for yourself. This checkup may reveal substandard cylinder performances, or faulty ignition, or any other engine troubles that should be corrected, for such correction can not only save you money, but add greatly to the enjoyment of your car. And for this highly interesting checkup and test there is neither charge nor obligation to you.

Best Lubrication Service

The lubrication department, under the direction of Mr. Manbeck, is operated by Fred Keck. Your car always gets expert lubrication service here because Mr. Keck has been thoroughly schooled and trained in lubrication work. The Alemite system of lubrication is used and only genuine Alemite greases and lubricants are put in cars greased here. The importance of regular greasing and checking of your car can not be stressed too highly. It would be wise and money saved if you would allow the Danner Buick company to do this for you. They'll gladly call for and deliver your car. Just phone 2137.

AUTO JACK HELPS IN MENDING BACK

By United Press

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—A common automobile jack is a very useful surgical instrument in the treatment of broken backs, Dr. Sim Driver of Dallas told the Texas Surgical society here.

A person suffering from a broken back, Dr. Driver explained, is placed on a frame of metal splints with his feet tied down and a weight attached to his head.

An automobile jack is placed beneath the frame and the patient's back slowly raised to the level of his extremities. Thus the ligaments of the backbone are enabled to draw the fractured pieces of vertebra into place and the patient can be placed in a plaster cast, the surgeon said.

Dr. Robert Moore, associate professor of surgery, told of a method of eliminating pain in heart ailments by severing a certain nerve.

CHURCH NAMED FOR NON-EXISTING STREET

By United Press

BOSTON—Boston has a church named after a street that never existed.

It's the Phillips Congregational Church in South Boston.

In 1859, when the edifice was built, it was proposed to change the name of streets in that area to the names of former Boston mayors. If this had been done, one street would have been named Phillips Street.

The plan fell through, but to this day, the church has borne the name of the former mayor.

AMERICAN INVENTORS BUSY DESPITE SLUMP

Patent Issed for Every 2,500 Population; Training Course Available.

By United Press

NEW YORK—The activities of American inventors seem to have been encouraged by the depression, for as many patents are being granted in the United States in the past few years as in normal times. The ingenuity displayed by inventors, the seriousness of purpose and the value of their ideas is fully up to their high standard.

A patent is issued today in the United States for every 2,500 population. The average is higher than in any European country. This is explained by the natural inventiveness of the average American youth and the high monetary rewards for successful inventions. Despite the depression there are some 50 group patents in the United States which have earned $1,000,000 and thousands of others which have brought inventors large incomes.

It now is possible for the inventor in the United States to be regularly trained in the art of inventing. The Inventors Foundation, a philanthropic organization, has established courses in training for inventors in leading universities and by correspondence. The inexperienced inventor is taught by experts how to study the patent field and find just where new inventions most are needed.

European Auto Service Limited To Door Opening

By The Associated Press

SALZBURG, Austria, May 13—The door openers out number the windshield wipers about 10,000 to one on the streets and highways of central Europe.

For instance, it is difficult to step in or out of an automobile without having a volunteer leap forward to open the door. But to get a windshield wiped is another matter. Sometimes the owner even has to wipe it himself.

The gas station men don't wipe it but the driver himself gets out to wipe it.

Opening the door of a car is different. Persons spring up from nowhere when a car stops. It is customary to tip the man or boy for the difficult task. Many a driver tips 17 door openers a day. When he reaches home the windshield still is very dirty.

Europe clinging to old tradition, still thinks of an automobile as equippage, a gentleman's carriage, with doors to be opened but no windshield to be wiped.

There are ancient class distinctions. So the social status of a windshield wiper is most ambiguous. The seller of gasoline is a merchant, and merchants have been merchants for centuries. Wiping a windshield, however, looks like the same kind of work a housemaid would do when she cleans the windows.

Who Buys Your shirts and socks?

More than 80% of all men's shirts, stockings, underwear, neckties and handkerchiefs are purchased by women. Why? Men prefer to have their wives and mothers do the shopping because they realize that women are better shoppers—that they have a sixth sense for qualities and values.

How do women keep themselves informed? They have formed the habit of reading the advertisements in the newspapers. And they read them regularly, whether they want to buy anything or not. Then they know exactly where to go to purchase what they need, and they know to a penny just what they will have to pay.

From the advertisements any one can learn where to buy better clothes, better foods, better household goods, better everything. Read them carefully. They have news and suggestions for you!

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Motherhood.

On Mother's day the Maternity Center association of New York City began its annual campaign for the safety of motherhood. I can think of no better way of paying homage to mother.

As the result of improved methods of surgery, anesthesia and the discovery of other scientific appliances motherhood has been made safer. The many tragedies that still beset motherhood can be traced to neglect of appropriate medical care during the so-called pre-natal period.

It is the aim of the Maternity Center association, as well as of other similar societies, to bring to the attention of the expectant mother the importance of securing medical advice and necessary care in early pregnancy. In the hospitals of the larger cities adequate pre-natal instruction is given. It is a sad commentary on our alleged civilization that thousands of prospective mothers are deprived of this care. Without it many lives are lost.

Almost every unfavorable condition is capable of correction during the early months. Every measure taken to improve the general health of the mother before the birth of her child lessens the dangers of confinement. This care may be the means of preventing those complications which result in suffering and even invalidism of the mother, and in many a case the death of the baby.

It is not likely that there will be any danger if the prospective mother is kept under constant medical supervision. After the first physical examination she should visit her phyician periodically, have necessary tests made, including urinalysis, and be kept under observation.

Unfortunately, in the smaller communities pre-natal services are not always available to those who can not afford private physicians. In New York the department of health maintains 19 maternity hygiene stations where medical advice may be had. It is hoped that rural health centers soon will be established throughout the country.

It is true that childbirth is the most natural thing in the world, but it is unwise to take any chances. There are facts which every prospective mother should know and keep constantly in mind. Too many women die each year because they neglect to follow simple precautions which can be given by the physician. This advice is needed in order that dangers may be avoided and the mother returned to perfect health after the birth of her child.

The expectant mother should be the subject of tender care from all the family. There are simple practices that must be followed. Each case varies, of course, and no hard and fast rules can be applied.

Answers to Health Queries

MRS. W. H. Q—My baby has what is known as a stoppage of the tear duct. Is this serious? How should it be treated?

A—While this is not a serious condition it should not be neglected. Follow the advice of the doctor who diagnosed the trouble. He will prescribe the necessary treatment.

R.S. Q—I have a slight heart murmur. Would it be harmful to take —— or any other medicine similar to this?

A—Any heart condition requires careful medical attention. It is unwise to use medication of any kind unless it has been prescribed by your physician.

Mrs A I S. Q.—What do you advise for hyperacidity?

A.—First correct your diet and avoid poor elimination. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

A READER. Q—What should a girl of 17, 5 feet 5 inches tall weigh? 2. How often should the hair be shampooed?

A—She should weigh about 125 pounds. This is about the average weight for one of this age and height as determined by examination of a large number of persons. A few pounds above or below the average is a matter of little or no significance. 2. About once a week or every ten days.

Katherine Tells of Meeting Same Strange Man Who Had Talked to Jerry Ticer.

THERE WAS urgency in Katherine's voice and in the touch of her hand upon my arm, while the fact that she had whispered her admonition to hurry for she had something she must tell me betrayed that she did not wish Mary, left behind in the nursery with the baby, to hear the confidence.

I responded to that urgent note in action instead of words and did not reply until we had hurried through my door and I had pushed the bolt into its socket.

"Don't be frightened!" she adjured me. Then she said in low tones: "It probably doesn't mean anything, but I had a rather odd experience on the way to Dr. Gibson's.

"Have you among your acquaintances, social or business, a slight, youngish man of medium height, with dark skin, jet black hair, mustache and Vandyke beard, wearing dark motoring glasses and giving a subtle impression of ill health."

My composure was not proof against this disclosure, and I started violently.

"Ah! then you do know him!" Katherine commented.

"No, I do not. I am sure I never saw him. But he was described to me less than half an hour ago."

"Would you mind telling me about it before I tell you of my experience?" Katherine asked.

"Not in the least," I rejoined and forthwith related the story of Jerry Ticer's experience with the mysterious swarthy stranger whom Jerry had described as a foreigner.

Fits Her Impression

"That fits in with my impression," she said slowly. "But I don't believe he is a foreigner at all. I believe that his accent is assumed, that his skin is artificially browned, and that his hair, beard and mustache have been dyed."

"They're not false. I looked at him very closely. He must have been at great pains to grow them. And you say Jerry saw that his eyes were blue?"

"When the man's dark motoring glasses fell off, he saw them, yes," I answered.

"He's using a disguise, all right," she said. "That probably means he is known to someone around here, and so fears recognition. But I'll swear I never set eyes on him before. I studied him, too, tried to reconstruct him—his height, his slenderness, his apparent youth, with altered coloring, and no beard or mustache. But I couldn't reconcile even his imagined appearance with that of anyone I have ever seen. But this isn't telling you what he did and said."

Tells Her Experience

I gripped the arms of my chair with the determination that I would not hurry her story. But it seemed hours instead of fractions of a second before she went on.

"I think he must have been keeping an eye on the farm house," she began, "for when I drove out on my way to Dr. Gibson's, I am sure his car—at least the one he was in later — was drawn up in front of that farm house down the road toward the turnpike.

"I thought nothing more about it until, coming out of Dr. Gibson's, I saw the same car parked a little way down the street and noticed that the occupant of the car, whom I could not see distinctly, was watching me.

"The impression was so strong that instead of going into the telegraph office as I had intended, I went back into Dr. Gibson's house and asked Mrs. Gibson if, later in the afternoon, when she was sure the man was not around, she would telegraph the money [illegible] the one to Mrs. [illegible]. Then I went out again to find the man walking toward me."

Queries, Recipe Requests Answered by Mrs. Thurn

[illegible] and [illegible] Marion [illegible] of the questions sent in during the week of the [illegible] cannot be answer[illegible] the [illegible] form, either because there is no time enough to [illegible] them or because [illegible] some discussion per[illegible] quite suited to the brief [illegible] the Cooking School ses[illegible]

[illegible] question is the old [illegible] the safety or danger of aluminum cooking utensils [illegible] is as bad as one which [illegible] our grandmothers only [illegible] pular [illegible] then and culinary [illegible] those days was whether to [illegible] ous or not A large por[illegible] of the populace declared our [illegible] were headed for certain [illegible] they ate the poisonous red

[illegible] of the populace ate to[illegible] and learned to cook them [illegible] rent ways and we all know [illegible] day the tomato (even the [illegible] variety of this fruit) is one [illegible] darlings of the dietitians [illegible] us with essential vita[illegible] ving lives of sailors and [illegible] when far from supplies [illegible] fruit providing the mother [illegible] baby with an economi[illegible] ishing and vitalizing food. [illegible] of the food are legion

Much research by authoritative sources such as U S Government laboratories and the research laboratories of state universities has been done on the use of aluminum as a metal for cooking utensils After extensive tests bulletins were issued stating the scientific findings proving that there is not the slightest chance of any kind of poisoning or danger from the use of aluminum cooking utensils providing they are as clean as any other utensil you might use and that the quality of the food cooked in them is beyond suspicion

An acid food will leave the aluminum pan looking brighter than before the cooking this means that the kettle was not clean and that it should have been cleaned with an acid cleaner as well as with the erosion cleaners advertised by most aluminum companies My own choice for acid cookery is a coated metal that is an agate ware or enameled sauce pan while for quick cooking of foods which do not contain tomato juice acid fruits of any kind vinegar tomatoes etc is aluminum It does not chip and therefore good aluminum ware in a kitchen where three-meals-a-day is the rule is an economical purchase in the end

To keep it clean wash thoroughly with hot clean soap suds after each use scour off any dark spots with steel wool or some other erosive cleaner rince with boiling hot water in which a tablespoon or two of vinegar has been heated Then rinse with clear hot water Such utensils are absolutely clean and there is no risk in using them

Other Appliance Questions

One question recently received was Will a stainless steel frying pan stick like an aluminum pan? Which is the best to use for frying stainless steel or old fashioned iron?

A properly seasoned skillet of either aluminum or stainless steel will not stick Usually such skillets when sold have a card of directions with them advising the housekeeper to heat them thoroughly before using them and to melt a little shortening in them tilting and moving the pan so that all cooking areas of the interior are coated After this the pan should be re heated following this process two or three times As a rule with quality utensils there is then no difficulty if recipe directions are followed But it must be remembered that the iron utensils are slower to heat and there is less likelihood of too-quick heating and therefore sticking or burning of food while with the other metals which are heated through quickly the frying fat and juices are therefore cooked through and used up more quickly and the food likely to burn more quickly

All three wares have their place in the well stocked kitchen the iron for slow cooking such as a fricasse or pot roast or chops cooked in a sauce the others for pan frying sauteing and pan broiling And the older the utensil provided it is kept clean and free from stains and burns the better it cooks

Lined Cake Pans

In baking fruit cake it is wise to line the loaf tins with paper If so what kind of paper? The answer is yes use the paper if the recipe says so use waxed paper and rub it with shortening thoroughly Also rub the pan with shortening before fitting the paper in Such paper as well as paper toweling is needed in every kitchen The former to wrap up sandwiches left overs and all foods packed in lunch boxes or to cover dishes in the refrigerator the latter to use for wiping out greasy dishes and utensils before putting them in the dish pan or electrical dish washer and for the important job of draining foods fried in deep fat

Cocoa for Chocolate

In your marble cake how much cocoa can one use instead of melted chocolate? One third cup cocoa equals one square or one ounce of chocolate and when making such a substitution add one half tablespoon additional of shortening to the recipe to take the place of the fat in the chocolate Also texture and color may be slightly different The cocoa usually gives a little dryer finer texture the chocolate a softer richer texture

Beans Beans Beans

Have you a good way to cook beans? Such a question either come from a bride or a housekeeper who has no cook book for this familiar legume is known in two or three homely dishes to every household And how good these old fashioned bean dishes may be even the wash day soup of navy beans which used to be set on the back of the range in a big iron kettle early Monday morning and which was the main dish of the late Monday luncheon

Here is the way to make it

One and one half cups dried beans one pound corned beef one fourth pound lean salt pork three quarts water four medium potatoes two medium onions sliced one eighth teaspoon cayenne

The Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

THE TRUTH ABOUT WOMEN

If you want to know the real truth about a woman don't ask her husband or her doctor or her best friend—or even her psychoanalyst.

Least of all, her husband

Because all that he has ever learned about her is what he learned by accident or what she couldn't manage to color up for him And men are notoriously bad guessers when it comes to deciphering a woman

Almost any woman can convince her husband that she is thrifty clever kind hearted a domestic wonder and easily imposed upon if she works at it anything she thinks he thinks she ought to be I know at least half a dozen men who believe that their wives are marvels of thrift and economy and martyrs to the cause of housekeeping Whereas said wives spend their days joyously hanging round the bargain counters and are just naturally too fagged out to rustle up a recent dinner when they totter back home

A woman's doctor may guess a little more accurately in sizing her up and her best friend may be onto lots of her little camouflages and idiosyncrasies that she has never confessed even to her God

But if you are really anxious to know the truth about any woman cherchez her hairdresser Or her manicurist

These are the confidantes and oracles in whom she reposes her deepest darkest secrets and her most sacred confessions These are the ones to whom she unbosoms her marital woes doubts and suspicions to whom she admits her weaknesses and defeats and frankly divulges all her petty disguises

More real news passes from the customer across the curling tongs or over the finger vase than ever gets into the newspapers And more spicy gossip floats through the curtains of a hairdresser's booth than ever reaches the gossip columns

Funny, but a woman who wouldn't dream of telling her age admitting her husband's faults or revealing her past or her love affairs to her best friend will unburden her soul and practically force these confessions on a beauty parlor operator whom she has known for only half an hour

No doubt she figures that the beauty expert knows the truth about the color of her hair just how she gets that schoolgirl complexion and can guess her age within the year, anyhow And since she knows the worst, why not tell her the rest and throw yourself on her mercy?

But if I were running a confession magazine or a gossip column I should simply station a few women's sleuths in the town's smartest beauty parlors and have all the news handed to me on a silver platter' And incidentally, I'd learn the real truth about women'

CHAPTER 13

About Daphne

"I DON'T know what I should've done without Mr Westurn" said Alison sweetly.

Robert Rede took his cue

"I'm extremely grateful to him" he remarked

"I don't know what else I could have done sir" said Guy modestly facing the two honest eyes which were summing him up "Anyway it was a pleasure"

Major Rede nodded in approval—he liked young men to call him sir respectfully and he liked a modest tone compliments inserted in their proper places

"I hope you'll come back and look us up" he said to Guy "Live in London do you?"

"Yes"

"Mr Westurn's an architect" put in Alison

"Ah! An architect! Well I hope you'll come round and see us when we're less when we're less—" he finished that sentence by a fierce twist which sent his tie into its place and a pat on his dishevelled thinning hair Alison seconded the motion with a soft "Yes please do"

"I'd like to very much if I may"

There are times when words are quite unnecessary two pairs of eyes can talk without such a clumsy medium A glance exchanged on the way to the front door a smile a hand which lingers half a second too long in saying goodbye can express something much better than any language yet invented When the front door had shut Alison gave a sigh

"Nice young fellow" Major Rede said warmly "good manners Decent One can always judge" He linked his arm into Alison's and stooped to kiss her again Said in gratitude "We must ask him round to lunch or something one day don't you think we ought to?"

"I think perhaps we ought" said Alison "He's really quite nice"

Which only goes to show the complete duplicity of even good girls

She was halfway up the stairs when she remembered that she had not asked Guy for his address!

Well he lived in London and it would be in the telephone book When she had unpacked bathed and changed Alison ran down to the library

Good to be home again! she thought looking round the big square room with its solid old furniture its rich wine colored damasks and its air of sober peace Good to be back and good, too to think that her father liked Guy, that he would be coming to lunch!

She picked up the telephone book and opened it at W Pages and pages of Westerns Insurances and newspapers and factories, Westurns and Westons and Westins—it took several minutes to run down the thickly lettered columns when she had finished she turned back and began again, more slowly The book dropped from her hands

Westerns in plenty but not a single architect called Guy Westurn in the whole book!

It was after dinner that night that Alison summoned up enough courage to ask about her father's fiancee

"[illegible] her What's she like? Where [illegible] How did [illegible] happen?"

[illegible] his laughter [illegible] He smiled merrily [illegible]

"I expect you'll [illegible]"

"Yes but what's she like?" Alison insisted "You know Father darling you're no good at description You haven't even told me whether she is dark or fair"

"Oh, dark"

"Pretty?"

"I suppose she isn't what you'd call pretty" he admitted "but at my age my dear one doesn't judge by looks She's charming and attractive A woman who knows her world and a delightful companion for a lone man"

"Has she any children?" asked Alison

"Children? Good Lord no" He seemed almost shocked at the notion

"How old is she then?"

Her father looked up at her blankly

"If you know now you [illegible] up to mention it I don't know"

Alison laughed

"Darling isn't that like you!"

"I should say she was about—" he considered "well 10 years older than you"

Twenty eight Well that wasn't too bad decided Alison It would be more like having an elder sister The phrase in her father's letter "a Mrs Sumers a widow" might have meant anything

"You know you haven't really told me anything about her what's her other name"

"Daphne"

"That's pretty Daphne Sumers" said Alison approvingly. Her father tweaked her ear

"She won't be that soon"

"Why when are you to get married?" Not soon Alison hoped Let her have a little while with her father first

"In about six weeks we thought" he told her "You see we're going to honeymoon in Madeira and I thought I'd wait until Aunt Emily got home from India and then you could stay with her while we were away"

"I think that's a splendid idea" agreed Alison Her father's face cleared

"I was doubtful and she liked both her young cousins" He said rather wistfully now "I hope you are going to like her"

"I'm sure I am" she said warmly "I expect it has been lonely for you"

He laughed shyly

"Has? Don't you think I'd be rather rash to count on many years of you my dear?" He noted her flush with a smile and added "Think I didn't notice how that young man looked at you?"

He didn't

But Guy turns up, unsought, tomorrow

What else could I have done?" asked Guy

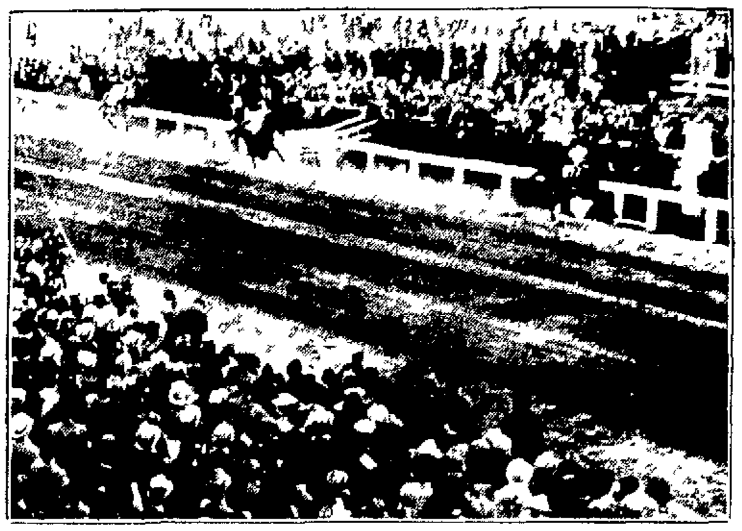
OMAHA REPEATS BY WINNING $25 000 PREAKNESS



Fresh from his victory in the Kentucky Derby Omaha three year old colt owned by William Woodward gave another demonstration of his fleetness by parading home in the $25 000 Preakness at Pimlico Md six lengths ahead of Firethorn (Associated Press photo)

Withers Mile and Belmont Turf Races Now in Sight for Big Red Flash, Omaha

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK May 13—Omaha the big red flash from William Woodward's Belair stud returned home today with prospects of little to beat in his future races following the capping of his decisive Kentucky Derby victory with a galloping triumph in the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday

The son of Gallant Fox has whipped all of the leading three year olds either in the mud of the Derby or over a fast track in the Preakness and it is hard to find any owner who would care especially to have his horse take another crack at the Woodward ace at least over the longer routes

May Take Rest

Omaha is eligible for both the Withers Mile and the $50 000 Belmont Stakes to be decided during the Belmont park meeting opening Wednesday He might find the Withers a difficult test but the one and one half miles of the Belmont is made for the long striding chestnut The Withers will be run May 25 and the Belmont June 8

I'm not sure he'll be in the Withers said his trainer Jim Fitzsimmons We may decide to give him a rest before going after the Belmont

The Withers probably will attract a large field whether Omaha goes or not as there are some fast horses at that distance in the three year old division They include C V Whitney's Today Mrs Dodge Sloane's Psychic Bid and Mrs Payne Whitney's Plat Eye all of which trailed Omaha in the Derby after showing early speed

Psychic Bid had mud kicked in his face at the Downs but made a better showing in finishing third in the Preakness

Although not blessed with early speed Omaha showed at Pimlico it does not take him long to get into stride He may go on to prove that he will be a mighty tough horse even at a mile

He came out of Saturday's race in fine shape said Fitzsimmons If he continues to stand training and he's as sound as a dollar he should have no trouble winning the Belmont

Now In Big Four

Omaha was the fourth horse to win both the Derby and Preakness Sir Barton Gallant Fox and Burgoo King previously having turned the trick A victory in the Belmont would put him in even a more select group as Sir Barton and Gallant Fox are the only horses that ever won the Big Three

In winning the one and three sixteenth miles of the Preakness by six lengths Omaha ran the distance in 1 58 2 5 only one fifth of a second off the race record hung up by High Quest in nosing out his stable mate Cavalcade last year

Had Omaha's jockey Willie Saunders so desired the Woodward colt might easily have slashed not only the race record by the track mark of 1 58 made by Gallant Knight

PARMALEE'S PITCHING AIDS BID OF GIANTS FOR LEAGUE PENNANT

Fireball Thrower Downs Bucs 3 to 1, Mungo Wins from Reds, 9 to 1

BY HUGH S FULLERTON JR

Associated Press Sports Writer

If the New York Giants are going along at the top of the National League standing at even a better clip than they hit early last season Roy (Tarzan) Parmelee can furnish the explanation

The right handed fireball thrower from Lambertville Mich couldn't keep pace with the rest of the Big Four last year winning only 10 games and losing six and hurling only seven complete games out of 22 This year he has made a great start to rise to the top of the new Big Five which includes young Clydell Castleman

Moves To Top

After failing to finish his first assignment which ended in a tie Parmelee has racked up four straight victories to move to the head of the National League pitching corps In those four games he allowed only six runs and 17 hits turning in two three hit games and one four hitter

Only a streak of wildness marred yesterday's performance in which Roy set down the Pirates with four blows to win 3 to 1 He tossed seven shutout innings with only two hits then forced in the only Pittsburgh run by passing Pinch Hitter Red Lucas after hits by the two Waners and Walker had crammed the corners

Parmelee also scored the first Giant run after smacking a double in the fifth The other two tallies came home in the next inning aided by a pair of stolen bases

Despite the victory the Giants couldn't shake off the Brooklyn Dodgers who clung to their place a game and a half behind by trimming the Reds 9 to 1 as Van Mungo chalked up his fifth mound victory Sam Leslie provided some able backing for Mungo by smacking four straight hits which knocked in five runs

The third place Cubs benefitted by some good elbowing to whip Boston 4 to 1 Lon Warneke limited the Braves to seven hits fanning six and smacking four singles for a perfect day at the plate

Collins Wins

The Cardinals completed the triumph of the first division over the second by belting out a 10-8 decision over the Phillies The teams divided 32 hits Phil Collins making his first Cardinal start beat his old mates although he didn't last the route Curt Davis in action after nearly a month's layoff was knocked out early

The St Louis Browns climbed out of the American League cellar by defeating the Red Sox 3 2 while rain kept the other American League clubs idle The victory made possible largely by Manager Rogers Hornsby's pinch double in the seventh put the Browns a half game ahead of the Athletics

Quotations in Chicago Recede Despite Firmness on Liverpool Market

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 13 — Lower prices in wheat was the rule here early today despite relative firmness of the Liverpool wheat market and sterling was the highest since January. Rains over domestic wheat territory and east Canada had a bearish effect. Opening ⅜@⅝ lower, July 93⅝@¾, Chicago wheat futures declined further afterwards. "On the contrary," he added, "as we approach the problem of distribution social justice recognizes that our national wealth originated from the application of money [illegible]. It likewise recognizes that no group of men can conspire to so concentrate the ownership and use of the nation's raw materials as to prevent their fellow men from supplying their labor to them to in order to gain just livelihood.

"The unavailability of money," he said, "is due to the fact that its volume is controlled by those who control it for their own greed, particularly as they prefer to practice principles which are contrary to social justice."

Father Coughlin climaxed his address with a direct appeal to President Roosevelt to sign the Patman bonus bill in the name of the millions who joined the national union in the name of the greatest [illegible] people ever established.

"You were called demagog for uttering the same philosophy which I utter today," he said in addressing his remarks to the President. "You were called demagog by the same forces that oppose us today."

He promised the President one million telegrams with not less than five million names to support passage of a bill restoring to congress the right to coin and regulate the value of money.

Social justice he declared in referring to the banking system of the country "is not [illegible] and [illegible] unless we begin at the beginning and nationalize the federal reserve banks."

The [illegible] he said was limited to the 12 regional banks "which although owned by private individuals function as the bankers' banks or central banks which today enjoy the privilege of coining, manufacturing, regulating and controlling the price of our nation."

Father Coughlin announced that the third of [illegible] meetings to effect the [illegible] program of his union [illegible] be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, May 22.
